A Year in Review

We are pleased to present the Annual Report for the LifeCycles Project Society. Here you will find an overview of how LifeCycles is delivering innovative, hands-on programming in Greater Victoria to achieve our goals related to a vibrant local food system and high levels of community engagement.

In the past year, LifeCycles has overcome economic challenges and turnover in board and staff. Many experienced LifeCyclers returned to serve on the Board of Directors. The Fruit Tree Project has continued to grow and flourish, with an incredible 2011 harvest of more than 30,000 lbs of fruit. New staff were recruited to coordinate the Growing Schools and Urban Agriculture programs. New community and funding partnerships have been developed, which have strengthened our core programs and allowed for a collaborative staff management team to be created.

With your help, we were able to grow our membership and donations in the past year, which has been essential to our ongoing operations. Thank you.

LifeCycles believes the vibrancy of our future organization depends on continuing to advance entrepreneurial activities in our programs and together with our community partners. We look forward to sharing ideas, learning—and hopefully enjoying some local food and drink—with our members, volunteers and supporters throughout the upcoming year.
